LATIN CLUB

If you should ever venture into one of the meetings of the Latin Club as the secretary calls the roll, you would be greeted with a volley of "Adsums," which, to those of you who do not understand Latin, means "I am present."

Perhaps you might think the Latin Club is very dull, but the truth is that its meetings are always enjoyable. The most important event in the social calendar of the club is the annual "Roman Banquet," to which members only are invited. They are dressed in replicas of Roman styles, and they eat food prepared in Roman fashion. The guests are waited on by "slaves" picked from the ranks of Latin students who have not yet had the privilege of joining the organization. Another excellent program of this year was the "Ides of March" entertainment given on March 11. A play, readings from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," and brief lectures were given.

The meetings are conducted by John Peninger, the president, who is aided by Irmagene Sanford, secretary, Polly Hagmann, vice-president, and Harry Simmonds, treasurer. Last semester's officers were Jean Anne Vincent, Elizabeth Haglund, Dorraine Friedmann, and John Peninger. Miss Daphne Shaul and Miss Florence Baber are the advisers of the club.

First row: Mary Leonard, Peggy Hohn, June Jensen, Mrs. Mary Harmon, Raymond Kingsley, John Dunlap, Robert Freer, Mary Blanchard, Virginia Dawson, Norma Nilsen, Susanna Putnam, Ruth Zaun.

Second row: Ann Benjamin, Cynthia Scott, Dorothy Posch, David Ruff, Eugene Hickey, Phyllis Fleckenstein, Herbert Sloane, Peggy Lovering, Sholom Barron, Floyd Ross, Irene Sweeney, Sally Weinagen.

Third row: Naomi Mogelson, Donald Baker, Weston Harmon, Bettie Bohlig, Elizabeth Hinderer, Alice Wall, Adele Vinquist, June Pearson, Sybil Christensen, Betty France, Betty Harlan, Roger Berg.

TRAVEL CLUB

INCIDENTALLY, such customs are prevalent in China, Japan, and India also." This and many similar phrases are frequently heard in the meetings of the Travel Club. The fact that it is one of the largest clubs at Central indicates the great interest shown in far-away places.

The club has just completed its third year as a student forum for information on foreign lands. The object of the Travel Club is to promote interest and knowledge in physical topography, customs of inhabitants, outstanding features in foreign and home lands.

Admission to the group of eighty members is by try-outs consisting of a two-minute talk by each of the candidates. Students must choose topics related to travel in America or foreign countries. Talks and informal discussions on various countries and their resources constitute the regular meetings which are held on the first and third Mondays of each month. The first meetings of each month are open to the student body at large. At one of the meetings this year Mr. A. E. Towne of the Northwest Airlines gave a movie and a lecture on transportation.

First row: Mary Louise Christoffer-son, Mrs. Mary Harmon, Leland Batchelder, Bernard Anderly, John Dunlap, Robert Freer, Ray Kingsley, Otto Silha, Carolyn Hansen, Betty Olson, Frances Hemze.

Second row: Marjorie Robbers, Marjorie Wilkins, Betty Jane Howe, Thomas Haywood, Jack Marston, Howard Bushnell, Herbert Defiel, Louise Loevinger, Jane Sweney, Hester Jewell.

Third row: Gayle Skipton, Mar-guerite Gray, Elizabeth Hohn, Bar-bara Rounds, Sally Hagerman, Helen Hurley, Barbara O'Brien, Bettie Hanson, Audrey Rohland, Elsie Hansler, Jeanne Popp.

TRAVEL CLUB

*I*N December the club enjoyed its one social event of the year, the Christmas party at which members exchange gifts. To vary the routine of the club, visits are sometimes made to the Walker Art Gallery and the Minneapolis Institute of Fine Arts. Late this spring Miss Helen Hagin showed movies taken on her trip to Mexico and gave a lecture about Mexican customs.

Officers for the fall semester were Betty France, president; Donald Levin, vice-president; Marjorie Wilkins, secretary, and Maidie Power, treasurer. Sup-planting the above in the spring semester were John Dunlap, Ray Kingsley, Robert Freer, and Mary Blanchard respectively. Mrs. Mary Harmon is the club adviser.

The Committees are: Membership—Robert Gunderson, Chairman; Bernard Anderly, Jane Kennedy, Helen Hurley; Publicity—Carolyn Hanson, Emma Mae Howe; Social—Albert Moorman, Chairman; Mary Jo Zupke, Norma Rosness, Edith Okes, Ann Benjamin; Program—Peggy Lovering, Sally Weinhagen, Dan Blanchard, Harry Munson, John Wilson, Gayle Skipton.

Third row: Elizabeth Schuck, Helen Olsen, Janet Jensen, Natalie Kolb, Janet Erickson, Alice Litman, Sholom Barron, Annette Shedorosky, Lorraine Horowitz, Eileen Simon, Lucille Bischoff, Frances Merk, Beatrice Schuck.

Fourth row: Allan Orenstein, Sydney Schmuckler, Dorothy Nielsen, Norman Jones, Med Nation, Charles Morscheck, Jack Peninger, Sam Esenstein, Jack Sheehan, Alice Wall, Frederick Mayer, Eugene Schway.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Is there a solution to the world's armament problem? Just how will the Far East question affect the United States? Perhaps you may find any answer to these questions if you are a member of the International Club, one of the most active and popular clubs at Central. It is one of the many chapters of the Student Forum of International Relations which has groups throughout the world.

The requirements for entrance to the club are a "C" average in a term of modern history, a short talk on a current topic, and a brief test on current events. The membership is restricted to sixty students. Members of the club may secure for a small fee the name of a foreign student wishing an American correspondent. Discussion of the Olympics and Mussolini, debates, and topics of international interest comprise a typical meeting. At one of the meetings this year, Katharine Flad, a former Central girl, told of her trip to Europe; at another the Misses Marion Munson, Edith Haigh, and Helen Hagin related their experiences in Mexico.

Gerald Vanek officiates as the president assisted by George Mirras, vice-president; Polly Hagmann, secretary; and Olive Foerster, treasurer. Miss Lillian Flitch and Miss Lou Ella Miles are the advisers.

First row: Lou Ann Parkin, Audrey Day, Susanna Putnam, Kenneth Awsumb, Mary Anne Holdorf, Helen Olsen, Robert Davidson, Margaret Momsen, Mr. W. E. Bush, Sally Browne, Betty King, Helen Gorman.

Second row: Walter Robinson, Harvey Dow, Gertrude Harrel, Douglas Lowe, Virginia St. Sauver, Mary Lou Christofferson, Roger Allen, Elizabeth Wiesner, Olive Foerster, Thomas Smith, Dottie Mae Gibbons, Harry Mass.

Third row: Constance Frey, Helen Swenson, Roderick Lawson, Betty Jane Jahnke, Marjorie Spaulding, Richard Lewis, Marlene Kuris, Alice Wall, Roswell Ingram, Lee Nelson, Jane Rinkel, Margaret Bean.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

THE Chemistry Club, guided by Mr. William E. Bush, was organized two years ago for the purpose of promoting an interest in chemical research. The organization is limited to sixty members, all of whom must be enrolled in chemistry and must have displayed an interest in science. Every other Monday the members meet to hear speeches or to perform experiments.

This year the entertainment program of the Chemistry Club included several outside speakers, one of whom was Professor Jones from the Chemistry Department of Macalaster College who spoke on glucose. Experiments were performed for the members by Ransom Goins at one of the meetings. At others, reports on different topics of interest were given by members, two of which were "Ink" and "The Calcium Family." The subjects were taken from the "Scientific Leaflet," a paper for which the club subscribes. Excursions were made to Griggs, Cooper & Company and through our own heating and lighting plant. The social program consisted of a pow-wow and a sleigh ride.

The officers of the club are, Robert Davidson, president; Margaret Momsen, vice-president; Helen Olsen, secretary; and Margaret Primrose, treasurer. Chairmen of committees are Margaret Bean, program; and Jack Mitchell, excursion.

First row: Irma Meili, Ruth Johnson, Norman Jones, Frederick Walter, Florence Schleh, Elizabeth Erickson, Second row: Robert Cary, Eunice Potter, Beatrice Schuck, George Pepin, Jeanette Gelin, Gertrude Dearborn, Elizabeth Snuck.

Third row: Dottie Mae Gibbons, Ruth Plotz, Robert Mathes, Barbara Hagman, Robert Nelson, Polly Hagmann, Bettie Hanson.

BIRD CLUB

"HELP to conserve wild life" is the motto of the Bird Club. This year the members of the Bird Club instituted the collection of a fund to aid in supplying food for birds. This money was turned over to city and state funds for that purpose.

The club was founded in the fall of 1928 and meets every second Thursday. Entrance requirements include the completion of one spring term of biology or its equivalent, a written test of the prospect's ability to identify in some descriptive manner a number of more or less well-known birds. The membership is limited to 25. Activities of the club include meetings at which reports on bird life are given, hikes, and visits to museums. The traditional yuletide party is the only social event of the season. This spring the members enjoyed a number of movies concerning bird life which were borrowed from the St. Paul Institute.

Officers of the club are: Harold Nyquist, president; Frederick Walter, vice-president; Ruth Johnson, secretary; and Norman Jones, treasurer. Miss Irma Meili is adviser.

First row: Neil Utberg, Jane Sorenson, Lee Nelson, Alfred Priesnitz, Robert Linse, Mary Grace Bell, Mr. Lewis Harnsberger.

Second row: Howard Bushnell, Jeanette Maher, Jack Kennedy, Shirley Axt, John Neiger, Jean Rapp, Fremont Jewell.

Third row: Harold Schmatter, George Doeren, Helmer Johnson, Edna Peirce, Robert Johnson, Alice Crean, John Guider, John Dow, Henry Waring.

Fourth row: Robert Merchant, Walter Hansen, Boyd Emrick, Robert Wille, Frederick Walter, Jenith Peterson, Robert Peters, Leo Dian.

AERONAUTICS CLUB

“HE flies through the air with the greatest of ease,” might well be the motto of the Aeronautics Club. It is composed of boys and girls who are interested in aviation as a hobby or as a life's work. Most of them are from the aeronautics class where they build model planes from plans of well-known aeroplanes of today.

The club was organized two years ago by Mr. Lewis Harnsberger, who wished to promote interest in the field of aviation, particularly in the theoretical aspects. Each member of the club is assigned a special topic on some phase of aeronautics which he gives orally at the regular Friday afternoon club meeting. In this way he becomes acquainted with some branch of aviation and imparts his knowledge to the others. At some meetings speakers from the Northwest Airlines or the University of Minnesota talk on topics of interest to the club. Professor Ackerman, head of the aeronautics department and consulting engineer of the University of Minnesota, gave a special lecture on “Aeronautics as a Profession: Possibilities Offered and Preparation Needed.”

Elections are held annually. The president is Alfred Priesnitz, the vice-president, Robert Linse. Lee Nelson is the secretary, and Gene Popp is treasurer.

First row: June Josephson, Joleen Springer, Dorothy Posch, Gwendolyn Benson, Floyd Ross, Sidney Frank, Shirley Axt, Pauline Mueller, Ann Benjamin.

Second row: Nancy Newport, Gayle Skipton, Marion Simon, Marion Dornfeld, Audrey Rohland, Phyllis Schneider, Carolyn Hansen, Elizabeth Haglund, Geraldine Singer.

Third row: Mary Louise Orr, Dottie Mae Gibbons, Bettie Hanson, Rita Cruttenden, Maxine Hanzalik, Grace Seashore, Betty Lue Nesom, Elizabeth Anne Broady, Dorothy Kinsmiller.

Fourth row: June Pearson, Geraldine Weber, Ned Axt, Harold Baldwin, Norman Jones, Gerard Bloch, Marion Brown, Dorothy Mitchell, Marcella Selbach.

HOBBY CLUB

A NEW club was formed in January of last year for the students especially interested in various hobbies. "What hobbies?" you ask.— "All kinds," we answer. It is an organization for persons interested in the same hobbies and gives each one a chance to trade ideas, information, and even match boxes. In this group there are members who make collections of every sort. Membership is also open to those interested in photography.

This club was organized by Mr. A. D. White, who at the present time, is president of the Northwest Coin Club. Instructive talks are given by speakers who come to the club for this purpose, and at other meetings the value of the various hobbies is discussed. Collections made by members are exhibited each spring. There were fifteen different displays at the most recent showing. At the close of each semester, a party is given by the members. At this social gathering a splendid program and a special "feed" are the points of interest.

The elections are held at the final meeting of each semester. Otto Quale is the president; Sidney Frank, vice-president; Grace Seashore, secretary; and Morris Fine, treasurer. Mr. White is the adviser.

First row: Leo Fox, Maxine Thomas, Guy Hedensten, Margaret Bean, Robert Linse, Harold Baldwin, Jane Sorenson, W. E. Bush.

Second row: Fremont Jewell, Betty King, Howard Bushnell, Margaret Hibler, Richard Lewis, Harry Hillstrom, Gayle Skipton, Warren Richard, Elizabeth Wiesner, Douglas Lowe.

Third row: Roderick Lawson, Helen Olsen, Betty Jane Jahnke, Leland Batchelder, Lee Nelson, Dorothy Nielsen, Jane Rinkel, Helmer Johnson.

RIFLE CLUB

CRACK!—"Will you mark my target, Bill?"—"Sure, just a minute—" The marksmen are shooting again. The rifle range is constantly in use, and many high scores are shot there.

The Central High School Rifle Club is a member of the National Rifle Association. It was organized in 1928 by Mr. W. E. Bush, the present adviser, and members have participated in the National Bi-Weekly Matches every term since that time. They have won eight cups, making an average of one a year. They hope to continue making additions to this collection. On March 18, the team composed of ten members defeated the Harding High School team of St. Paul by a score of 471 to 463. Matches with other clubs in St. Paul and in the United States are one of the club's activities together with the Bi-weekly matches and large bore shooting at Fort Snelling.

Robert Linse has been the president for the past year and Harold Baldwin, the vice-president. All secretarial work was done by Margaret Bean. The members of the team are Robert Linse, Richard Lewis, Guy Hedensten, Helen Olsen, Lee Nelson, William Likens, Fred Walter, Joe Kluegel, Carl Oja, and Helmer Johnson.

First row: Hester Jewell, Leo Fox, Robert Putz, Eugene Hoppe, Jane Stoffer, Anton Sletner.

Second row: Joseph Joyce, David Clemans, Robert Johnson, Sholom Barron, Spero Daltas.

Third row: Bernard Sather, Gerald Vanek, Harry Howis, John Watson, Robert Howard, Robert Merchant.

CHESS CLUB

DO YOU need to develop your powers of concentration? Do you want to learn one of the world's oldest games? Go to room 209 and try a game of chess. You will see the wrinkled brows and bent heads of the engrossed participants in this intriguing mental pastime. Deep silence reigns over the room.

The first we heard of this interesting club was in 1929. The group was organized to develop powers of concentration and to further the art of chess playing. A written test is one of the requirements for entrance. The members of the club have the privilege of playing the game any day after sixth period in room 209. The club holds tournaments once a semester for its own members. Members also enter into competition with other Minneapolis and St. Paul high schools. The last few years the tournaments between the twin city high schools have been topped off with a dinner in the evening. The club is slightly smaller this year because it is no longer combined with the Checker Club.

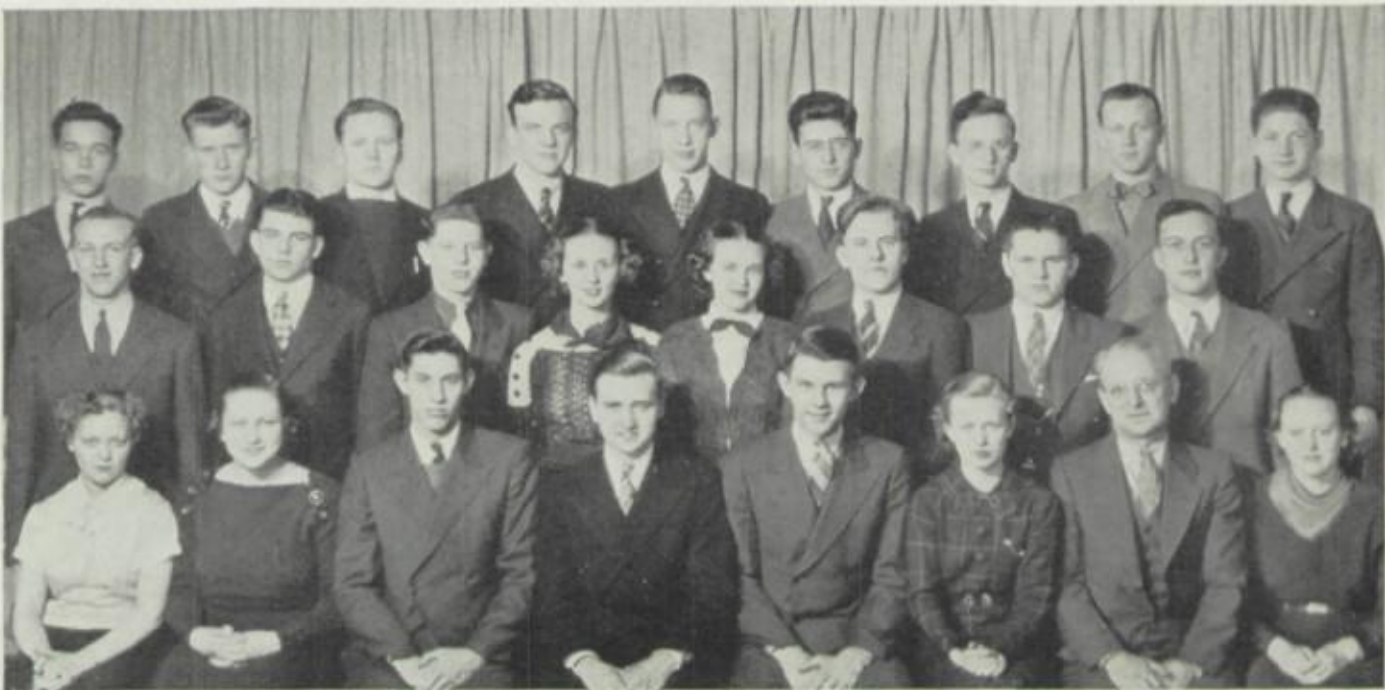

The officers are: president, Anthony Sletner; secretary, Jane Stoffer; treasurer, Robert Putz. The adviser of the club is Mr. Robert Brockman.

First row: Lorraine Beltman, Lorrayne Rice, Jack Mitchell, Walter Hansen, Arthur Schwabe, Jane Sorenson, Mr. Albert Schwabe, Barbara Kaysen.

Second row: Harold Harris, Leland Batchelder, Bryce Clark, Elizabeth Hinderer, Marianne Anderson, Wayne Currier, Walter Bechik, Edward Humphrey.

Third row: Earl Towner, Harry Hillstrom, Vernon Wollan, Jack Mathews, Harold Baldwin, Burke Neff, Robert Hutchinson, Joe Francis, Floyd Ross.

ARCHERY CLUB

DO YOU want to be a Robin Hood? Do you think you could snap the string and hit the bull's eye? Join the Archery Club!

The Archery Club is one of Central's newest organizations. It was started in 1933 by Mr. Albert Schwabe, the present adviser, under whose management the club has been very active. The only requirements for membership are an interest in archery combined with an ability to shoot a bow and arrow and a desire to improve one's skill. The club is also interested in encouraging beginners who show some ability. Try outs are held each fall and in February, and new members are selected by the old members, who vote on those having the highest scores. The meetings are held every other Thursday, and members are allowed to shoot on Tuesdays and Thursdays on the balcony of the lunch room. If the weather permits, they make use of the outdoor range north of the school.

The club elects their officers once a year. This year the officers are: president, Walter Hanson; vice-president, Jack Mitchell; secretary, Jane Sorenson; treasurer, Lorrayne Rice; custodian, Arthur Schwabe; and assistant custodian, Lorraine Beltmann.

First row: Coach Jerald J. Sexton, James Monkman, Otto Quale, Robert Cutting, Vernon Johnson.

Second row: Donald Brandt, William Gross, Charles Gaskell, Walter Hansen, Frederick Poppe.

Third row: Samuel Sweet, Leo Dinesen, Donald Olsen, Lawrence Klepperick, Lewis Soukup, John Schultz.

Fourth row: William McWhirter, Whitney Countryman, Karl Dedolph, Otto Silha, Philip McAdam, Thomas Carey.

BOWLING CLUB

CENTRAL 2383. Humboldt 1987. These are just two of the many scores of the Bowling Club of Central high school. This club is a recent addition to the school activities since it was organized only during the last semester.

The boys bowl every Saturday morning at ten o'clock at Harkins' Recreation Hall located in the Hamm building. The members of the club gain practice when the first, second, and third teams compete. Outside competition is held between the various high schools in the city or between different groups at Central. One of the most unusual games of the season was the game between the faculty and the Central team. Frank Galles, Jerald Sexton, Robert Berg, Ray Peterson, Alfred Schwabe, and Playford Reed were members of the faculty team over which the Central bowlers were victorious. The student team was composed of James Nash, Otto Silha, John Schroepfer, Douglas Nelson, Whitney Countryman, and Lawrence Klepperick.

Plans are being drawn up for a handicap playoff within the club as well as the matches with other high schools. Otto Quale was elected president. He is assisted by Robert Cutting, vice-president; Vernon Johnson, secretary; and James Monkman, treasurer. Mr. Jerald Sexton is the club's adviser.

Third row: Bernard Sather, Leslie Deppe, Joseph Kluegel, John Nichols, Daniel Drommerhausen, Robert Johnson.

RADIO CLUB

CALLING C. Q. Duluth."—"Calling C. Q. Duluth."—"Hello, C. Q. Duluth?"—"Will you contact me with W-7-K-O-Z or don't you know his wave length?—Thanks!"—"Hello, W7KOZ. This is W9MQW, St. Paul Central High School calling. How are you?" This is one way a message is sent from the Radio Club to another "ham" station in a different locality. If the wave length and call letters are known, the station may be called direct. All members learn the code and signals and can understand the reception over the short wave set.

Guided by Mr. Clarence W. Eastman, this club has benefited greatly from his leadership. Chalk talks, speakers, and moving pictures from the St. Paul Institute are regular features at their meetings. This club has no social activities, their time being devoted solely to the interesting conversations and programs coming over the air. Their affiliation with the United States Naval Reserve in St. Paul enables them to send a maximum of two hundred messages weekly although the full quota is not transmitted. The students furnish the messages and these are delivered gratis to any of the forty-eight states.

Elmer Kunze heads the club this year. His co-workers are Robert Patterson, vice-president; David Erickson, secretary; and Richard Baller, treasurer. The science section is headed by Howard Schoonover, chief operator, assisted by Richard Steinmetz.

First row: Anita June Williamson, Mr. C. W. Eastman, Bernice Saxrud, Robert Larson, Elaine Swanson, Robert Spielman, June Josephson.

Second row: Virginia Wilson, Marjorie Sappington, Lois Mueller, William Watson, Louise Blomgren, Janet Mitchell, Joan Powers, Esthe Makiesky.

STAMP CLUB

THE Stamp Club has been in existence for only two years, but it is steadily growing in importance. The purpose of the club is to promote an interest in stamp collecting and to give interested collectors an opportunity to compare their collections with others and to make exchanges. The club is under the able direction of Mr. Clarence Eastman.

The meetings are informal. At almost every meeting the club has an outside speaker. These speakers are prominent St. Paul stamp collectors. Two of their guests this year were Mr. Franklin Drake and Professor Downey, who teaches Latin at Macalaster College. At these meetings there are generally one or more valuable collections exhibited. The members themselves also give interesting reports or exchange stamps. Of course, they also send away for stamps. The stamps that have been used are the most valuable because they show when the stamps were used as well as that they were used. The club has no outside activities.

This semester the officers are president, Robert Larson; vice-president, Robert Spielman; secretary, Bernice Saxrud; and treasurer, Elaine Swanson. The program committee chairman was Robert Spielman, and Virginia Wilson acted as chairman of the membership committee.

First row: Miss Mary L. Bryant, Joan Maderfeld, Margaret Momsen, Janet Erickson, Johanna Vollegraaf.

Second row: Frances Bloomfield, Mary Claire Bannitz, Eleanor Johnson, Almyra Dewein, Betty Hewett.

Third row: Margaret Olson, Jeanette Gelin, Jane Schroeder, Lucille Borsch, Cordelia Swinborne.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS

WOHELO! To be trustworthy, healthy, and happy, to give service, and to obtain knowledge comprise some of the noteworthy aims of the Campfire Girls. This year the girls are striving especially to become good hostesses.

The Kishakaki group of Central is a comparatively young branch of Campfire Girls which was organized in 1933. The girls hold their meetings twice a month on Wednesday evenings at the homes of the members, each girl having the opportunity to officiate as hostess. Once a month there is a meeting at school. The meetings are devoted to the study of Campfire Girl laws, nature, and social activities. Last spring these active girls sponsored a popcorn sale. The money earned was used for their many social functions. In winter the girls enjoy sleigh rides, in the fall there are invigorating hikes and pow-wows, and often during the summer, the group makes delightful weekend trips to beautiful camp Ojiketa. There are three ranks of honor: Woodgatherers, Fire Makers, and Torchbearers.

This year the officers are: president, Joan Manderfeld; vice-president, Margaret Momsen; secretary, Janet Erickson; treasurer, Johanna Vollegraaf, and scribes, Cordelia Swinborne and Mary Claire Bannitz. Their sponsor is Mary L. Bryant, and their guardian is Miss Eloise Holterhoff.

First row: Olivia Botha, Kathryn Bair, Ruth Klett, Ruth Jenkin, Laura Lundberg, Jeanne Lodge, Patty Plank, Elizabeth Scheer, Edith Kemp, Jolanda Ghiloni, Virginia Wilson.

Third row: Ruth Lindgren, Virginia Peters, Drusilla Hedberg, Pauline Mueller, Grace Harnsberger, Elsie Steffen, Florence Schleh, Vivian McCall, Jeannette Gelin, Anna Mae Olson, Ruth Lewis, Gertrude Harrell.

GIRL RESERVES

THE Girl Reserves, a popular club of long standing at Central, is affiliated with the Y. W. C. A., the center of activity for the group. On Thursdays, which is Hobby Day, members attend classes in dramatics, dancing, and other leisure time amusements.

The Twin City Conference, which was held in the Minneapolis Y. W. C. A. this year, was the most important get-together for the Girl Reserves of St. Paul and Minneapolis. There they heard many important speakers, among them an ex-World Secretary of the "Y." Discussion groups on various subjects such as clothes, club organizations, etiquette, and other topics of interest to the girls were held in the morning and afternoon. After the morning session, a luncheon was given, the Central Girl Reserves of Saint Paul participating to a large extent in the entertainment which followed.

The Girl Reserves maintain a camp, the Grace Dodge camp, at Lake Elmo. Funds are raised each year by the doughnut sale, the proceeds of which are used to send some girls to camp as well as to keep camp in repair. Girl Reserves throughout the city raise funds for this purpose. This year, the Girl Reserves of the city sold twelve thousand dozen doughnuts, which is three times the amount sold last year.

First row: Lorraine Beltmann, Marjorie Stowell, Pearl Sklar, Catherine Baars, Ethel Ann Johnson, Jane Sorenson, Dorothy Jean Anderson, Jeanne Lodge, Dorothy Posch, Marion Clark, Ruth Grohoski, Ruth MacManigal, Elizabeth Anderson, Esther Makiesky.

Second row: Lois Jenkins, Eleanor Farber, Elaine Henderson, Virginia Matters, Gretchen Vander Voort, Marjorie Herrmann, Jeanette Maher, Betty Smith, Phyllis Johnson, Janet Hill, Constance McGuire, Carol Strane, Marie Ludwig.

Third row: Ruth Schieman, Sally Geer, Norma Rosness, Charlotte Funke, Irmagene Sanford, Bernice Landmark, Margaret Hibler, Jane Sorte, Marjorie Spaulding, Beverly Robbins, Winifred Matters, Helen Grama.

GIRL RESERVES

THE Central Girl Reserves took an active part in the sale of doughnuts. The high salesman at Central was Marion Clark, who will be awarded by a week at camp. Pins and chevrons were also awarded to other high sellers. Another project sponsored by the Girl Reserves of Central was the selling of black and red feathers to be worn at the Central-Mechanics football game.

The club also gave a Christmas party at the Neighborhood House for thirty-five poor children who received dolls dressed by the Girl Reserves for the Santa Claus Club. In the spring, an advisers' party, an All-City May Day Party, and a pow-wow are attended with much enthusiasm.

The officers are: Jeanne Lodge, president; Laura Lundberg, vice-president; Dorothy Posch, secretary; and Patty Plank, treasurer. The members of the Cabinet are: Program, Ruth MacManigal; Publicity, Marion Clark; Service, Kathryn Bair; Membership, Betty Scheer; Music, Jane Sorenson; Dramatics, Ruth Grohoski; Social, Dorothy Jean Anderson; Sports, Edith Kemp; Friendship, Ruth Jenkin; and Inner-Circle Member, Ruth Klett. Miss Elfie Brodeen is their adviser and Mrs. R. R. Bradshaw is the City Secretary for the Y. W. C. A. She has charge of the Girl Reserve organizations in St. Paul.

First row: James Meier, Malcolm Sanford, Harold Ponthan, Glen Powrie, Roger Berg, Donald Baker.

Second row: David Ruff, Jack Marston, Richard LeMaster, Roger Eckholm, Judd Mulally, Bernard Anderly, Robert Moberg.

Third row: Dean Ponthan, Jack Stary, Charles Karkalits, William Gurnee, Robert Effinger, John Strand, Harold O'Rourke.

CENTRAL HI-Y

A POPULAR and active club, the Central Hi-Y, embodies worthy ideals and the spirit of good fellowship. The club was formed to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community. Any boy attending Central is eligible for membership. Election into the club is followed by a formal and informal initiation.

With the exception of pow-wows and banquets, most of the programs are held at the Central Y. M. C. A. every Wednesday night. These Wednesday night meetings usually feature some interesting speaker. Last fall the organization heard Dr. Madison, Harold Lavayder, lawyer, Gabby Street, sportsman, Lou McKenna and Gordon Gilmore, sport writers. In November our Central Hi-Y was well represented at the Red Wing Hi-Y convention, of which Harold Ponthan was president. Part of the late fall program was planning the yearly Christmas party for underprivileged boys at the Neighborhood House.

Harold Ponthan holds the office of president this year. Other officers are Glen Powrie, vice-president; Malcolm Sanford, secretary; and James Meier, treasurer. Fred Shoemaker advises the group.

First row: Bob Cutting, John Shannon, Thomas Haywood, Dean Carlstrom, Walter Hammond, Alex Polanek, Eugene Hickey.

Second row: Joseph Francis, Charles Hammond, Walter Hansen, George Brandt, Harold Harris, Donald Seel, Ferris Booth.

Third row: Donald Williams, John Rule, Kendon Smith, Mark Gehan, Jr., Robert Dougan, Edward Humphrey, Eugene Hoppe, Robert Novotny.

MID-CENTRAL HI-Y

FOUNDED three years ago, the organization of this Hi-Y group closely parallels that of its brother club, the Central Hi-Y. The Mid-Central Hi-Y club was originally organized to accommodate increased interest in Hi-Y work.

Every fall the club adopts some school service plan. This fall the members published and distributed the football score cards. Attractive programs are featured at the regular Wednesday evening meetings, and talks on athletics, colleges, vocations, and parliamentary law are especially popular. Any boy student at Central is eligible to be voted upon for admission in the club; however, the club endeavors to keep the membership at approximately thirty. The regular meeting place is the Midway branch of the Y. M. C. A. Social activities have been many, including pow-wows, bean feeds, and similar amusements. The Christmas season was enlivened by a gay dance held at the Commodore Hotel.

The elections are bi-annual. Alex Polanek, Thomas Haywood, Mark Gehan, and John Shannon presided in the fall. Until June the executive officers will be Dean Carlstrom, president; Thomas Haywood, vice-president; Walter Hammond, secretary; and John Shannon, treasurer.

THE ARTS

First row: Maxine Hanzalik, Clifford Goebel, Miss Minette Paro, Sidney Frank, Daniel Lawler, Susan Peterson, Stuart Oliver.

Third row: James Kothe, Kenneth Wujek, Guy Hedensten, George Muehlbach.

THUMB TACKS

EVERY other Wednesday the Thumb Tacks meet in 319. It is an organization which concerns itself chiefly with the lighter side of art. This year the Thumb Tacks crashed a meeting of the Spectrum art club at Johnson High School where they participated in a chalk talk contest.

Members of the Thumb Tacks are chosen from the outstanding students in the art classes. It is in recognition of one's talent in the field of art. Those attractive posters one sees about the school advertising the CEHISEAN, class meetings, and so forth, were designed by the clever Thumb Tacks. This gives them an opportunity to ply their trade and also to help the school. Once again the year passed without the traditional sleigh-ride party they never have. Each member is required to make two posters a year. The Thumb Tacks also decorated the stage settings for the Dramatic Club play.

Instead of adhering to the usual titles accorded officers of a club, the Thumb Tacks have titles appropriate to the organization. This year the Chief Tack is Sidney Frank; Little Tack, Daniel Lawler; Keeper of the Tacks, Daniel Lambert; Tacks Collector, Clifford Goebel; Program Chairman, James Kothe; Publicity Chairman, Virginia Hoffstrom. Miss Minette Paro is the adviser.

First row: Arthur Lyman, Joseph Heininger, Kenneth Wujek, Daniel Lawler, Guy Hedensten.

Second row: Robert Mathes, Clifford Goebel, Miss Minette Paro, George Muehlbach, Sidney Frank.

Third row: David Johnson, Galen Anderson, William Reusch, Robert Merrill, Weston Harmon, Douglas Lowe.

CARTOON CLUB

THE Cartoon Club, an organization for boys only, was founded in September, 1934, by Miss Paro and a group of boys who were interested in the advancement of cartooning and who wanted to meet others who were with the same interests. In order to become a member, each applicant must submit an original cartoon to the committee of judges. He must draw an original cartoon before the members at a regular meeting. If both drawings are accepted, he is then a full-fledged member.

Cartooning gives the fellows a chance to express their feelings by means of illustrations. As their meetings are private, hilarity rules, for the boys vie with one another to produce amusing enough cartoons to attract the other members. Their aim is always to better their style; so frequently speakers are invited to attend. This year Cameron Booth, St. Paul cartoonist, was one.

The president is elected at the first meeting of each term, and about three meetings later the other officers are elected. This year the president is Kenneth Wujek, and Joseph Heininger acts as vice-president. Daniel Lawler takes charge of the secretarial work, and Arthur Lyman is treasurer.

First row: Anita Williamson, Meta Deutschlander, Lois Mueller, Jeanette Maher, Charlotte Wagner, Patty Plank.

Second row: Helen Gammel, Joanne Lasker, Marjorie Herrmann, Jeanne Lodge, Jeanette Gelin, Jean Anna Vincent.

Third row: Mary Louise Baskerville, Doris Rockola, Eileen Jones, Betty Balcome, Ruth Lewis, Virginia Becklund.

TRIADS

JUST a group of cut-ups—the Triads. With their sharp little tools and pieces of linoleum block the talented members of Triads have devoted their spring term to supplying all of the decorative material for the latest edition of the Literary Club's annual magazine, THE WORLD. The major project of the fall semester was the Christmas wrapping paper. Designed and cut from linoleum block by the club members, it was then sent to the press to be printed for sale.

This year the Triads celebrate their tenth birthday with a continued enthusiasm for art exhibits, scenic spots, and guest speakers. The members are ever alert to the frequent exhibits held at the St. Paul Public Library, and a truly outstanding water color display of the work of Mr. O'Hara which was sponsored by the St. Paul School of Art is to be remembered with sincere pleasure. Various individual art projects keep the members busy while not engaged in regular work or not attending these interesting exhibits.

The officers of the present term are Lois Mueller, president; Hugo Blomgren, vice-president; Meta Deutschlander, secretary; and Jeanette Maher, treasurer. Miss Elizabeth Stroble is the Triad's adviser.

First row: Emily McSherry, Donna Hipp, Miss Lillian Knott, Norma Benham, Elizabeth Johnson, Margery Levie, Frances Nasvik, Doris Mae Bulen, Raelaine Smith.

Second row: Elaine Rosenblatt, Dorothy Allanson, Lois Sundberg, Shirlee Banning, Evelyn Matthews, Gertrude Dearborn, Marlis Axness, Dorothy Jean Mitchell, Shirley Goldberg.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

*M*USICAL and sweet! The voices of the girls in the Sophomore Glee Club can thus fittingly be described as they blend in harmony.

This organization has been active since 1934. Its objective is to prepare the voices for the junior and senior Glee Clubs. It also assists its members to discover just how much they are interested in music, and often inspires ambitions for solo singing.

Although much prominence has not been gained yet by the club, it performs on invitation and once entertained the sophomore class meeting by presenting three delightful and varied numbers. There are thirty-five members in the club, and it is composed of first and second sopranos and altos singing three part music. The girls meet every Wednesday after period nine. These meetings are held entirely for the purpose of singing, but a party is usually planned for the last gathering of the year.

The club is under the able direction of Miss Lillian Knott, and the accompanists are Marlis Axness and Dorothy Mitchell. This term's officers are Betty Madsen, president; Vivian Affalter, vice-president; and Donna Hipp, secretary.

First row: Sol Krawetz, Robert Gill, Miss Lillian Knott, Melvin Unterman, Wilmer Heller, Thomas Cook, Arnold Frishberg, Ford Kinney, Lyle Vernon.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

THE Boys' Glee Club is open to any boy who attends Central who proves he has sufficient singing ability to enter the club. To those who have an ear for music and who are musically inclined the club offers an opportunity to improve their abilities and to present their talent before the school.

The club is unique in that it meets nearly every day, for it sometimes meets with the Girls' Glee Club. The boys generally meet alone on Monday, the girls on Friday, and the two groups together on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Business meetings are held every other Wednesday. Since last fall the club has sung together with the Girls' Glee Club on several occasions. At Christmas and in the spring the boys present an assembly. Every year they take part in the M. E. A. Chorus and give a Spring Festival. They also take part in other assemblies and in special attractions such as "Pinafore," which was given last year.

Officers are chosen once a year for the combined Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. Wilmer Heller presides this year and Patricia Beckwith is vice-president; Eunice Potter was elected secretary, while Melvin Unterman holds the office of treasurer. The club is advised by Miss Lillian Knott, and the accompanist is Janis Moss.

First row: Naomi Mogelson, Miss Lillian Knott, Ruth Warren, Patricia Beckwith, Eunice Potter, Annajean Merrill, Janet Jensen, Audrey Rohland.

Second row: Lois Berger, Margaret Stearns, Virginia Sault, Shirley Winnick, June Matthews, Mary Grace Bell, Marjorie Wilkins, Tobetha Chern, Joleen Springer.

Third row: Ruth Blehert, Margaret Hibler, Donna Benson, Virginia St. Sauver, Alice Litman, Alice O'Neill, Elsie Hansler, Margaret Mayer, Beverly Burnett.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

LEND me your song, ye nightingales! Within the ranks of the Girls' Glee Club are the upper class girls who are interested in choral music. The Girls' Glee Club was founded thirty-four years ago. Under the direction of Miss Lillian Knott, the club has grown in size and importance from year to year. The activities of the Glee Club for the last year have taken place mostly during the second semester, but the chief demonstration of the members' musical abilities during the first semester was the Christmas assembly.

The second semester, however, their program kept the members busy with the annual assembly, competition in the city-wide musical festival, and singing for several church vesper services, and a great deal of time was spent on preparing the music for commencement exercises.

The officers of the complete Glee Club for the first semester were: Annajean Merrill, president; Melvin Untermann, vice-president; Ruth Warren, secretary; and Wilmar Heller, treasurer. The second semester officers were: Wilmar Heller, president; Eunice Potter, secretary; and Melvin Untermann, treasurer. The pianist for both semesters was Janet Jensen.

ORCHESTRA

ANY time we want music, we ask for the orchestra. We are sure to have an excellent program, for the music is under the capable direction of Miss Lillian Knott.

Since 1900 the orchestra has been serving the school, giving at least one assembly each term and always being willing to do its share in other activities. The orchestra was organized with the purpose of giving every student who is able to play a musical instrument the opportunity of playing with a group. This is of great advantage to any striving musician. Each year a string ensemble is selected from the members of the orchestra as well as a small orchestra which plays semi-classical and popular music. The latter group entertained during the dinner given by the "C" Club at the Athletic Club in December and also in February at the annual dinner of the Midway Business Men's club. The orchestra meets every day as a class, and the string ensemble meets once a week. The orchestra has two different kinds of meetings, social gatherings which afford good times and business meetings.

The officers are: president, Richard Schwartz; vice president, Ian Barr; secretary, Thomas Bauer; treasurer, Dorothy Growert.

First row: D. Kinsmiller, drum major; G. Rohrbacher, E. Colliton, P. Williams, R. Slifer, C. Manchester, P. Bass, W. Bergstrom, K. Smith, M. Tewmeyer, S. Carlson, R. Rohrbacher, J. Beavans, D. Cotter, asst. drum major.

Second row: T. Morgan, C. Warwick, R. McManigal, B. Norton, G. Aiken, D. Stevenson, R. Wille, G. Bloch, A. Steinman, W. Wille, D. Seel, E. Rohrbacher, J. Ernst.

Third row: A. Godfrey, G. Schroeder, S. Levitan, L. Sadek.

Fourth row: W. Vollhaber, C. Sadek, P. Riemer, R. Skipton, J. Lennartson, B. Johnson, D. Levin, R. Effinger, D. Williams, E. Peterson, A. Sacco, R. Peterson.

Fifth row: R. Rosenblum, F. Ross, E. Herrick, E. Charleston, Mr. F. Blume, J. Lacy, H. Ridgeway, R. Magraw, W. Meier, M. Christgau.

BAND

THE life of the school! That's the band! Sixty-two members practicing hard! That's the band! It's the organization with those colorful red and black uniforms we see so often at football games and assemblies. It's the organization that makes us jump to our feet and sing "Onward, Central!"

The Central High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Franklyn L. Blume, is kept busy marching and playing at football games, giving concerts, participating in the Minnesota Bandmasters' Clinic, presenting their annual assembly in January which includes special instrumental numbers, and most important of all, the Tenth Annual Band Concert held in May.

This year letters were given for service in the band. As soon as a member has fulfilled the requirements, he is eligible for a letter. Although the idea of girl drum majors originated last year it has proved popular, for now there are three. The baton twirlers are Dorothy Kinsmiller, senior drum major, and Dorothy Cotter and Elizabeth Handsaker, her assistants. The officers this term are John Schwefel, president; Donald Levin, vice-president; Phyllis Williams, secretary; Shirley Levitan, treasurer; Samuel Carlson, librarian; Robert Rosenblum, custodian of capes; and Clyde Manchester, business manager.

Third row: Val Dora Turner, Harry Mass, Annette Shedorsky, George Dow, Betty France, Alice Litman, Bernard Anderly, Doris Rockola, Barbara Rounds, Otto Quale, Elaine Gibson, Kenneth Awsumb.

DRAMATIC CLUB

*W*OULDST thou be a somber Hamlet, or perhaps a tongue-lashing Kate, or morose Lady Macbeth? Full expression may be given to these wishes by joining the Dramatic Club. This club was organized many years ago. One of the purposes is to teach students to express themselves clearly and artistically, and another is to encourage interest in one of the greatest forms of art in the world.

Tryouts are held once every fall, and most of the players in the dramatic assemblies are chosen from this group. This year's assemblies will be remembered for "The Prince of Domdomitor" and "Why the Chimes Rang." The latter was given at Christmas and was beautiful in its color and pageantry. Every second year this organization produces a long play to be given for the public, and this year "The Artist's Dilemma," a play written by Miss Austin, met with huge success.

The adviser is Miss Helen Austin, and the officers are Howard Robinson, president; Betty Engle, vice-president; Dorothy Jean Anderson, secretary; and Donald Levin, "The Artist's Dilemma" business manager.

First row: William Caplan, Doris Rockola, Arthur Bell, Virginia Becklund, Antonio Sacco.

Second row: Kenneth Fullerton, William Marvin, Betty Olson, Miles Clark, Tom McDougall.

Third row: Alfred Schwab, James Kellum, John Nichols, George Muehlbach, George Clemans.

STAGE FORCE

*W*ITH the closing and opening of a curtain, an audience is transported from an elaborate palace scene to the fresh green beauty of a forest. Can it be magic? No—it is our ever ready, dependable stage force which works with such silent speed and accuracy behind the scenes in all of our productions. This force is chosen by the dramatic director, Miss Helen Austin, who instructs the boys as to the operation of the lighting effects, staging, and gives them all necessary training. As usual they have been very efficient in their work this year, contributing much to the success of the various elaborate assemblies, the "Times Revue," style shows, and the play, "The Artist's Dilemma," written by Miss Austin.

A group of artistic girls form a valuable branch of the backstage company. This organization is the wardrobe committee whose duties are to take care of all costumes, small properties, and to create new ones when called upon.

Arthur Bell is the manager, Thomas McDougall is chief electrician, and George Clemans, carpenter. Virginia Becklund is chairman of the wardrobe committee.

First row: Marjorie Wilkins, Blanche Karkeet, Annajean Merrill, Emily Kalal, Susanna Putnam, Ruth Grohoski, Jane Sorenson, Louise Adams, Hester Jewell, Miss Marjorie Dornberg, Jane Stoffer, Lorraine Beltmann.
 Second row: Geraldine Chinnock, Frances Hemze, Mildred Carleen, Margaret Jean McRae, Elsie Hansler, Jeanne Lodge, Shirley McFaden, Delle Doty, Marion Anderson, Dorothy Jean Anderson, Catherine Conroy, Bettie Hanson, Mary Howard, Ruth Warren, Margaret Blegen.
 Third row: Gertrude Collatz, Elaine Gibson, Margaret Krause, Ruby Jo Swanstrom, Elizabeth Hinderer, Evelyn Carlson, Lucille Varner, Ruth Perkins, Barbara Rounds, Marjorie Newhouse, Annette Abrahamson, Betty France, Ruth Elliot, Laura Abramson.

PAINT AND PATCHES

*W*ILL you be a slant-eyed Chinese, a sleek Frenchman, or a hayseed farmer? A few minutes with this ingenious group, Paint and Patches, and Central's shyest boy will step forth a deep-dyed villain with long waxed mustache. Likewise the loveliest maiden might as easily be made to represent Scott's hag, Ulrica.

It is this group that adds character to the stars to Central's stage productions. The Dramatic Club's entertaining play, "Prince Joy," afforded great opportunity for Chinese make-up as did "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in the "Times' Revue" for that of the negro. In order to be among the Paint and Patches, one must have had at least one term's work in an expression class. Tryouts are held early each fall, and immediately after entrance into the club the new "Patches" are informed about the intricate objects of the make-up box. The meetings are almost entirely devoted to practice in this art. However, the early meetings teach only the correct straight make-up, while later meetings are devoted to the study of character make-up.

The Paint and Patches are under the instruction of Miss Marjorie Dornberg. The officers are: president, Jane Sorenson; vice-president, Elizabeth Hinderer; secretary, Patricia Doyle; treasurer, Louise Adams.

CENTRAL'S CAGERS

THE 1935-36 Central basketball team, coached by Milton Hahn and captained by Harold O'Rourke, won ten games in fifteen starts to win the St. Paul Conference championship and reach the Region 4 finals.

Displaying many individual stars but lacking teamwork early in the season, the Minutemen lost their campaign opener to De la Salle 30-17 in a non-conference clash.

After this start, the Red and Black quint improved rapidly, and the following week they defeated Elk River 26-17. Washington, the first team to meet Central in a conference clash, was unable to keep up with the Minutemen and lost 24-15.

Growing stronger every game, the Red and Black quint won their next five games by downing Johnson 24-17, Humboldt 26-22, Harding 28-15, Mechanics 24-15, and Washington for the second time 32-22.

"GANGWAY, TARZAN!"

WITH six conference victories, which put them in first place, the Minutemen met a determined Johnson quint and were nosed out 29-27 in an overtime period, but with a championship depending on the outcome, Central won the next game 25-26 from Humboldt, and then cinched the title by taking a 26-15 win from Harding.

Playing their last conference game and their Twin City game within three days of each other, the Minutemen dropped both, one to Mechanics, 29-26, and the other to Edison, 30-13.

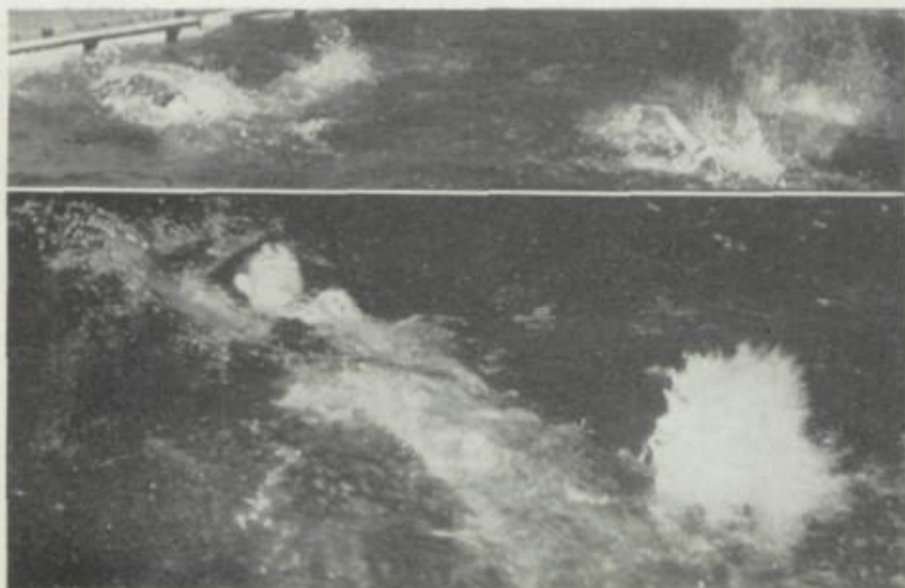

By winning the city championship, Central automatically went to the regional tournament where they met and defeated Waterville 29-22. The victory in the semi-final brought them up against the other semi-finals, Red Wing, who won the regional title by topping Central 41-31.

Climaxing their successful season, the cagers elected Robert Nankivell and Howard Ridgeway co-captains for the 1936-37 campaign. Roy Huseman was chosen all-city forward by both daily papers.

RED AND BLACK

CLIMAXING a successful season, the Central High tankers, under Coach Robert Berg, again captured the city title, this year from a surprisingly strong Cretin squad. Pushed to win, the Minutemen totalled a score of 43-37 to retain the city crown for the twelfth consecutive season.

Elected to take the place of Captain Richard LeMaster, who was declared ineligible for the first semester, Kendon Smith, aided by manager William Rose, piloted the swimmers through the season. Standouts during the city campaign included LeMaster, James Brack, Judd Mulally, George Brandt, Dean Carlstrom, and a medley team composed of Brandt, Mulally, and Smith.

SPLASH STARS

IN non-conference meets, Central was beaten by a strong Shattuck squad, but went on to down the Blake tankers by a one-sided score. A meet with Minneapolis West went to the Mill City team only after the last event had been decided. George Brandt and the medley team counted a third apiece in the state meet to give Central a tie with West in fifth place.

Prospects for next year appear extremely bright with the return of Captain-elect Judd Mulally, George Brandt, and James Brack, all stars in their own events.

Second row: Arthur Casey, Judd Mulally, John Shannon, Robert Dougan, James Morse.

Third row: Porter Stanford, Dean Carlstrom, James Brack, Richard LeMaster, George Brandt.

First row: James Geer, Melvin Yblonsky, Joe Francis, Rolland Appleton, Isadore Freeman.

Second row: Clifford Hassie, Alfred Schwab, Joseph Zikan, Vernon Wollan, Charles Lorenz.

Third row: William Van Dyke, Joe Lynch, Gilbert Wellisch.

GYM TEAM

C OACH Frank Galles' gym team finished a disappointing third behind Johnson and Mechanics at the city wide gym meet. With virtually all of the 1935 championship squad back, the Minutemen were counted upon as favorites, but did not repeat the performance of the previous season. Vernon Wollan was Central's high point man in the city meet.

The first meet of the season was at Roosevelt High in Minneapolis. Central, being the only St. Paul entrant, finished third. The Turner's Gymnasium was the site of the second meet which was a dual affair with the Red and Black downing their opponents.

In the Northwest meet, held at the new Gopher Athletic Building on the University Campus, the Central boys again finished third. Joseph Zikan and Joseph Francis won gold medals for placing among the first ten gymnasts. In this meet, there were more than three hundred boys participating.

The team was captained for the second consecutive year by Joe Francis.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

INTRAMURAL basketball was exceptionally good in both divisions this year. The "Cagers" won the championship in the Senior League and the "Drug Store Cowboys" led the Sophomores.

Seniors who received honor medals were Clarence Johnson, Michael Korman, Clifford Hassie, Harold Ponthon, Harry Goodwin, Gordon Pearson, Harry Nye, and Robert Gray. Thomas Cook, Roger Berg, Richard Reddy, Leonard Johnson, Fred Bailey, Robert Portel, Leonard Lampert, and Walter Bechik received them in the Sophomore League.

The All-Star Teams were made up of Clarence Johnson, Clifford Hassie, Wendall Nally, Thomas Riley, and Michael Korman for the seniors and Robert Portel, Sam Cohen, Leonard Johnson, Harry Manke, Leonard Lampert for the sophomores.

INTRAMURAL HOCKEY

For the second consecutive year the "Rubber Shaggers" captured the Intramural hockey title by defeating the "Goal Getters," the only other undefeated team in the league, by a score of 4-1. The championship game was played at the St. Paul Auditorium.

Members who received their medals were Harry Nye, Carl Magnuson, William Whitcher, Donald Scheller, Malcolm Sanford, Tom Haywood, Harold Ponthon, John Francis, John Burg, and Donald Ogren.

First row: Kenneth Cornwall, John Howe, Richard McMillan, Frank Hovey, Roger Erickson.

Second row: Harry Nye, Thomas Haywood, Donald Schoeller, Donald Ogren.

 Third row: Gloria Yetes, Jean Rapp, Carol Strane, Marjory Romans, Lucile Ruff, captain.

SWIMMING

JUDGED on the following: form for the four regulation strokes, treading water for one minute, dives, and the one hundred yard free style, eleven girls qualified to represent the Central G. A. A. in swimming meets this winter. The girls are given fifty points toward the winning of the athletic letter for making the team, and fifty points are also given for eight swims.

This year the team, representing the United States, entered the Olympic Pageant in competition with five other local Y. W. C. A. teams and captured the blue ribbon. Form swimming, a medley, standard dives, and a group stunt for each team were the events on the program.

TUMBLING AND VOLLEYBALL

IN WINTER G. A. A. members' attention is centered on tumbling and volleyball. The tumbling team is chosen in much the same manner as the swimming team—the ten best are selected by a group of ten judges chosen from the Executive Board. The girls were rated on their ability to perform in good style seven fundamentals of tumbling and three single stunts.

Sophomore, junior, and senior teams are chosen for volleyball and competed against each other. Margaret Hibler, Margaret Becker, and Margaret Kvornig lead the senior, junior, and sophomore teams, respectively.

SPRING...

As the last lingering drifts of white yield to enticing southern zephyrs, Central in one body contracts a particularly pleasant form of mass spring fever, recovering just in time to rush into the final events of an eventful year . . . The J-S, commencement, and other last minute activities claim all available time . . . Nevertheless, no one considers the moments spent on the green lawn among the blooming lilacs as lost . . . Central dresses up for spring!

CLASS OF 1936

ENTERING Central in the fall of 1933, the class of 1936 was immediately organized under the efficient supervision of Miss Mary Bryant. By electing Arthur Lyman president his classmates gave him the honor of being the first president of the class of 1936. Elected to aid Arthur were Donald Levin, vice-president; and Jean Mountain, secretary. Virginia Becklund was appointed treasurer, and Arthur Randall became finance chairman.

In the spring of 1934, the class came under the leadership of its permanent advisor, Miss Marion E. Munson. Officers for this semester were: Maxine Otto, president; Donald Brandt, vice-president; Jean Mountain, secretary, and Sherman Gordon, treasurer. Allan Gaarden headed the finance committee. In January of 1934, the class sponsored a fishing booth at the all-school carnival, and in the late spring it conducted an all sophomore party in the gym.

Returning to school as juniors in the fall of 1934, the class of 1936 elected as its officers Jean Mountain, president; Otto Silha, vice-president; and Jeanne Lodge, secretary. Richard Burmeister and Robert Gunderson were appointed treasurer and finance chairman respectively. During the first weeks of this semester the class carried out its duty as class dues' collector for the entire school.

CLASS OF 1936

To bear the executive duties of the spring semester and the responsibilities of preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom, the class made Kendon Smith, president; John Wilson, vice-president; Betty France, secretary; and Marver Bernstein, treasurer. The supervision of class dues collection and direction of the finance committee were the duties of Jean Anne Vincent. The general chairman of the Junior-Senior Prom was Robert Gunderson.

After the summer vacation the class returned last September as seniors for their last year at Central. Kendon Smith was re-elected president and was aided by Jeanne Lodge, vice-president; Kay Hanson, secretary; and Joan Noonan, treasurer. John Wilson directed the finance committee and Virginia Becklund the filing. Jean Anne Vincent and John Shannon were co-chairmen of the publicity committee.

To direct the class during its last and most important semester at Central, the seniors made Jack Mitchell, president; Kay Hanson, vice-president; and Jean Mountain, secretary. John Shannon became treasurer to be aided by the finance committee under Leland Batchelder. Mary Louise O'Toole headed the filing and Edward Miller the publicity committee, while Otto Silha was appointed general chairman in charge of the 1936 commencement program.

First row: Ruth MacManigal, Peggy Hohn, Kenneth Fullerton, Weston Harmon, Charles Morscheck, Polly Hagmann, Vernon Johnson, Maxine Thomas, Patty Plank, Sally Browne.

Second row: Priscilla York, Ruth Zaun, Jane Sweeney, Carol Johnson, Betty Balcome, Delle Doty, Marion Dornfeld, Elaine La Pointe, Audrey Rohland, Hester Jewell.

Third row: Phyllis Schneider, Donald Baker, Barbara Rounds, Annette Abrahamson, Marjorie Herrmann, Janet Miller, Betty Crogan, Jane McNair, Alfred Schwab, Helen Hurley.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BALL

ON May 25, 1935, the class of 1936 was host to the senior class at the annual Spring social highlight, the Junior-Senior Prom, at Stem Hall in the Saint Paul Auditorium. Arrangements were under the direction of Robert Gunderson, general chairman, aided by the following committee chairmen: Harry Hillstrom, printing; Charles Best, orchestra; Virginia Becklund, eligibility; Margaret Momsen, distribution; Jean Mountain, dating bureau; Harold Ponthan, decorations.

With the seniors as their guests the class of 1937 entertained at the Junior-Senior Ball late in May under the supervision of Kenneth Fullerton, the general chairman. Arrangements were made by these committee chairmen: Polly Hagmann, eligibility; Maxine Thomas, distribution; Weston Harmon, orchestra; Alfred Schwab, decorations; Charles Morscheck, dating bureau; and Vernon Johnson, printing.

ODDS AND ENDS—

"THEY SAY"

Ed Miller—"Can't you get us in the CEHISEAN somewhere?"

Birch Doran—Ditto.

Mr. Buser—"I'm going to give you something for nothing!"

Barbara Hagmann—"Whatie?"

Mr. Eastman—"If a dry cell is dry it won't cell."

Any Teacher—"Now for tomorrow—"

Everybody to everybody else—"Hi."

Bob Merrill—"Hello, darling."

Ken Smith—"Is that copy ready?"

Jean Anne Vincent—"It had better be."

Rod Lawson—"Ye gods!"

Dick Le Master—"Did you hear the one about—"

(The rest of us—"A dozen times.")

Mr. Blume—"There'll be a rehearsal on Monday."

Bob De Haas—"I don' wanna."

Bob Cutting—"They're all alike! Out for your money!"

Gene Hickey—"Who's the brunette?"

(Tom Haywood—"I don't know, but I'll find out.")

WHAT EVERY SOPHOMORE SHOULD KNOW

Cramming—Art of crowding a lot into a small space. The smaller the space the more to be crammed.

Cribbing—An effective remedy for cramming.

Frat—Organization of wine, women, and dance.

Homework—Assignments given to keep us busy—usually done just before class.

Hot Foot—A fiendish torturing device.

Pledges—Tad pole fratmen.

Puns—Cracks that have to be "pulled" or extracted because they hurt more that way.

Sororities—Ask the man who owns one.

Skiping—In class in mind if not in body.

These jokes—Some you have seen before, others you haven't seen yet.

SPRING CALENDAR

- March 2—Still winter, but anyway a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love.
- March 6—Story finally breaks that we have Jack ("Brunhilde") Mitchell on top of the senior class.
- March 12—The sober Sphinx smiles.
- March 16—We start work on this section. It being hard to think of everything that people will think of doing a month hence.
- March 17—It may be almost spring, but that fog around Peg Lovering is her breath.
- March 20—Extra! $1.10 realized at the Sunlite.
- March 25—Otto Silha appointed general chairman of Commencement.
- March 26—Three little maids from school are we—Dot Woodley, Ruth Klett, and Dot Posch.
- March 31—137 of senior class on the honor roll the rest of us claiming an 84 average.
- April 1—Ken Smith, Virginia Becklund, and John Finsness get irregularity slips. All a part of All Fools' Day. Brownie and Gayle are only kidding, too.
- April 2-3—"Artist's Dilemma" comes off on the black side of the ledger.

SPRING CALENDAR

- April 13—Report cards come out after creating much suspense during vacation.
 April 24—WORLD comes out, bigger and better.
 April 24—Ione Varner, pretty as a picture.
 May 1—Teachers blossoming out with bouquets from the Girls' League.
 May 4—Floyd Ross going to town on those drums.
 May 6—"Still going together" and "remember when?"
 May 9—Dick Hanauer, skipper of the ship, Betty Jeffery taking advantage of warm weather to wash her hair.
 May 14-15—Tenth Annual Band Concert and stage show goes off with a bang.
 May 18—Dick Reddy, Leland Batchelder, Burton Friedman, Pat Cumbey.
 May 22—All upper classmen turn out to the best Junior-Senior Ball ever.
 May 25—Class day—there's no mistaking Lenny Paulsrud for a soph today.
 June 4-9—When longer and harder finals are made, Central will make them.
 June 5—Tri-Sigma Picnic.
 June 11—Rest?
 June 12—Graduation with an extra large class taking the laurels.
 June 13—Sox of a kind on a wall.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

SCHOLARSHIP, service, leadership, and character are the foundations upon which the National Honor Society is constructed. A student elected to the society must rank high in each of the four qualifications.

The National Honor Society was formed eleven years ago to offer high school students an organization similar to the college Phi Beta Kappa. Each school has its own chapter, but they are linked together by the national order. Central's chapter is in charge of a faculty board of six members. The standing committee is Miss Edith Haigh, chairman, Miss Hilda Anderson, Mr. William E. Bush, Mr. Lewis Harnsberger, and the class advisers, Miss Marion Munson and Mrs. Amanda Johnson.

Candidates for election to the society, which is the highest honor accorded a Central student, are first proposed by members of the faculty. The list of nominees is again sent to the entire faculty before the final announcement is made. Not more than fifteen percent of the senior class nor more than five percent of the junior class may be elected to membership. The candidate, moreover, must stand in the upper third of his class scholastically. The National Honor Society is the ultimate goal of every Centralite and the climax of his high school career.

First row: Buddy Ornstein, Laura Abramson, Ida Geller, Winifred Matters, Maxine Thomas, Vernon Johnson, Robert Gunderson, Meta Deutschlander, Virginia Nelson, Leonard Sundberg, Marion Senn, Sally Wiesner.

Second row: Patty Plank, Margery Levie, Olive Foerster, June Mann, Erna Kuck, Theodore Kuck, Virginia Becklund, Otto Silha, Gladys Olson, Walter Albrecht, Lois Dueholm, Elsie Steffen, Marian Steffen, Rosalyn Bernstein.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

ONE may perhaps comprehend the extensive work of the Historical Society when one recalls that there are about 11,000 graduates since 1830 whose records have been filed in the club's cabinets, and that there are from 600 to 700 students graduating every year. A folder is kept for each graduating senior which contains his picture and a card for recording the important events of his life. In addition to these valuable records all of the publications of the school are made into book form. This work is accomplished by the research committee.

Central's Historical Society was founded about 1908 by Miss Mary J. Newson. Members are chosen through the recommendation of the faculty entirely on the basis of scholarship. In addition to the regular business meetings, the club usually has two social meetings, a pre-holiday party and the initiation meeting. This year the former was carried out using the theme of an old English tavern, with Thomas Rishworth acting as master of ceremonies.

The advisers are Miss Ellen Simon and Miss Claire Boody. The officers are Robert Gunderson, president; Vernon Johnson, vice-president; Virginia Nelson, recording secretary; Meta Deutschlander, corresponding secretary; and Gladys Olson, executive secretary.

First row: Laura Abramson, Howard Robinson, Hortense Furni, Otto Silha, Irving Asch, Otto Quale, Jean Anne Vincent, Esther Makiesky.

Second row: Verna McGoon, Annette Shedorsky, Jean Rapp, Barbara Hagmann, Betty Jane Jahnke, Jeanne McAllister, Marcella Selbach.

Third row: Sherman Gordon, Betty Engle, John Finsness, Agnes O'Brien, Kenneth de Werff, Marlene Kuris, Gerald Vanek, Myron Blumberg.

QUILL AND SCROLL

A FUTURE Joseph Pulitzer? Booth Tarkington? Central may find them among the members of the Grace N. Elliott Chapter of the Quill and Scroll which is an international organization consisting of twelve hundred chapters with forty thousand members wearing the badge. To be eligible for membership one must be a junior ranked in the upper third of the class scholastically, and his journalistic or literary work must be submitted by the club adviser to the organization and be approved by the national secretary.

The school's publications, the TIMES, the WORLD, and the CEHISEAN, are well represented by members, and many of them are selected to the club by merit of their work in one of these fields of literary work. Two outstanding social events took place during the year, one being a formal dinner-dance given at a down town hotel in May, and the other a dinner held at the home of Hortense Furni in February. The entertainment was the informal initiation of new members.

Miss Olive Allen, the adviser of the club, is also a national councilor. Officers are: Irving Asch, president; Otto Quale, vice-president; Hortense Furni, secretary; and Howard Robinson, treasurer.

PUBLICATIONS—

First row: Shirlee Harris, Herschel Caplan, Olive Foerster, Irving Asch, Virginia Becklund, Otto Silha, Jean Anne Vincent.

Second row: Helen Plum, Marguerite Matzke, Jeanne Popp, Doris Rockola, Annette Shedorsky, Lois Kirk, Joanne Lasker, Laura Abramson.

Third row: Betty Engle, Joan Finsness, Betty Jane Jahnke, Winthrop Dyer, Barbara Hagmann, Myron Blumberg, Ferris Booth.

LITERARY CLUB

THE Literary Club interests itself primarily in the production of the WORLD, its annual literary magazine which is published early in May. The WORLD is entirely made up of work submitted by Central students. As a stimulant for a greater abundance of fine material for the magazine, a contest was sponsored early in the term. The winners in the four fields of endeavor, the essay, the short story, poetry, and criticism, were presented with copies of some of the latest literary successes. The Editor-in-chief of the WORLD is Otto Silha, and the associate editors are John Finsness and Betty Engle. The Triads, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth R. Stroble, cut the linoleum blocks for the illustrations. The art editor is Jean Anne Vincent.

The outstanding speaker at a fall meeting was a Central graduate, John Bell, author of "Moccasin Flower." A fascinating reading of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness" was given by Miss Marion Nemer at the February meeting.

Irving Asch is president of the Literary Club; Gordon Rood, vice-president; Olive Foerster, secretary; and Virginia Becklund, treasurer. Miss Grace Cochran is literary adviser, Winthrop Dyer is business manager, and Miss Dorothy Baumgart is business adviser.

—“WE’LL TELL THE WORLD”

CEHISEAN

EMBODYING several radical changes in make-up and color, the 1936 CEHISEAN made its bow at Central in the late spring. Innovations included a novel three section division according to the seasons, an elaborate three-tone color scheme, and the increased space devoted to underclass activities and pictures.

Taking as its keynote the life of a student at Central during three seasons of the school year, the annual staff devoted its energy to building a year book around the school calendar. In addition to new colors, new type styles were introduced. The mood of informality was stressed, and increased use of snapshots tended to produce a more interesting and readable book.

Working under Kendon Smith, editor-in-chief, and Jean Anne Vincent, associate editor, were Betty King, senior album editor; Elizabeth Hinderer, snapshot editor; Richard Magraw, feature editor; Gerald Vanek, faculty and school editor; Eleanor Rohrbacher and Birchard Doran, sports editors; Virginia Becklund, club editor; and Richard Burmeister, in charge of class write-ups. A precedent was established by placing three underclassmen on the snapshot committee to increase the scope of its work. Miss Florence Vest, adviser of last year's All-American book, again acted as editorial adviser.

First row: Gerald Vanek, Daniel Lawler, Helen Gammel, Harry Hillstrom, Ruth Jenkin, Elizabeth Hinderer, Richard Lewis.

Second row: Bernice Saxrud, Dorothy Posch, Ruth Schumeister, Lewis Burton, Jacquelyn Fredell, Myron Blumberg, Geraldine Albert, Olivia Botha.

Third row: Joanne Lasker, Olive Foerster, Maxine Hanzalik, Daniel Lambert, Betty Engle, Betty France, Kay Hanson.

Fourth row: Elaine Swanson, Irving Asch, Kenneth de Werff, Agnes O'Brien, Winthrop Dyer, John Nichols, Evelyn Lyden.

CEHISEAN

WITH much of the responsibility for the success of the CEHISEAN resting upon their shoulders, the art staff for this year's annual took over an unusually big job at the beginning of the school year. Wide use of design, cartoons, and color panels throughout the book called for an exceptional amount of work from that division of the staff.

With Daniel Lawler as art editor, the staff, composed of Maxine Hanzalik, Sidney Frank, Helen Gammel, Betty Engle, and Daniel Lambert, cartoonist, produced all of the colorful handiwork so much in evidence in the 1936 CEHISEAN. Their adviser was Miss Minette Paro, art instructor.

Harry Hillstrom, business manager, and Myron Blumberg, advertising manager, collaborated with Miss Helen Hagin, business adviser, to budget and finance the 1936 senior annual. Ample evidence of the financial success of the CEHISEAN is given by its account book which is entirely in the "black." The business staff was also responsible for picture schedules, printing, and typing. Taking care of this work were Elsie Steffen, picture chairman, and the stenographers, Ruth Jenkin, Geraldine Albert, Olivia Botha, Jacquelyn Fredell, Bernice Saxrud, Elaine Swanson, Ruth Schumeister, and Evelyn Lyden.

First row: Joleen Springer, Ruth Blehert, Geraldine Albert, Bernice Saxrud, Philip Huebener, Adele Vinqvist, Wylian Dahlen.

Second Row: Margaret Balch, Natalie Kolb, Jane Allen, Dorothy Ekman, Gerald Vanek, Charlotte Funke, Betty Lue Nesom.

Third row: Margery Levie, Bernard Anderly, Virginia St. Sauver, Richard Burmeister, Warren Wille, Mabel Jensen, Walter Robinson.

CEHISEAN

INAUGURATING an entirely new system of distribution, the business staff of the 1936 senior annual developed a second division for supervising the work of obtaining and fulfilling subscriptions to the yearbook. The fact that the distribution committee obtained a total of 1550 subscriptions, an increase of 250 subscribers over last year's record sale of 1300, amply attests to the successful working of this plan.

The new staff was headed by co-circulation managers, Lewis Burton and Richard Lewis. This group formed a part of the business staff, which worked under Miss Helen Hagin, business adviser.

Not only were there changes in the executive department of the distribution committee, but there was also a new home-room subscription plan introduced at Central this year. In former years it has been the practise to appoint one agent in charge of several home-rooms. Changing this plan for a more efficient one, the business staff appointed in each room a regular representative for the 1936 CEHISEAN. Each home-room representative who accounted for subscriptions totaling sixty per cent of his room's enrollment was given a place in the CEHISEAN staff picture—students earned places in this picture by their outstanding work.

John Dunlap and Shirlee Harris.

"THE ARTIST'S DILEMMA"

UNDER the direction of Miss Helen H. Austin, "The Artist's Dilemma," a delightful three-act comedy of her own creation, was presented by the Dramatic Club on April 2 and 3. The plot was uniquely developed around the life of a young painter who was at the point of a nervous breakdown. He was advised by his physician to go to a sanatorium for a few months.

During his absence, his servant rents the house to an attractive young authoress who takes the cottage in the hope of secluding herself from her admirers. The servant and the colored maid steal the rent money and plan to loot the house of its valuables. The painter returns unexpectedly and uncovers the plot.

At this point, the love interest between the artist and the authoress develops. More complications ensue. The hero is in danger of losing his cottage because of poor investments. The play ends happily when he authoress pays the mortgage and consents to marry the artist.

John Dunlap and Ruby Jo Swanstrom.

Betty King and John Dunlap.

Lewis Burton, Ruby Jo Swanstrom, John Dunlap, Jack Postlewaite, and Irving Asch.

JOHN DUNLAP and Ruby Jo Swanstrom shared the leading roles as the painter and the novelist. Probably the most picturesque of the character portrayals was done by Betty King who took the part of a love-sick admirer of the painter. Irving Asch and Shirlee Harris impressed the audience as playing competent character roles; Irving as the man servant, and Shirlee as the maid.

Dorothy Jean Anderson and Lewis Burton played the parts of friends of the novelist. Taxi-owner, post-mistress, policeman, and another maid were portrayed by Kenneth Awsumb, Janet Miller, Jack Postlewaite, and Helen Hurley, respectively. Others in the supporting cast were: Bob Gunderson, Howard Robinson, Robert Freer, and Vernon Johnson.

Ruby Jo Swanstrom and John Dunlap, play leads, in two scenes from the play.

SPRING ATHLETICS—

First row: William Rose, Donald Hook, Donald Howard, Robert Bernstein, Otto Bruss.

Second row: John Harp, Glenn Harrison, George Clemens, James Vervais, John Francis, Herschel Ziskin, Ferris Booth, Allen Haskens, Frank Galles.

• CINDER ARTISTS

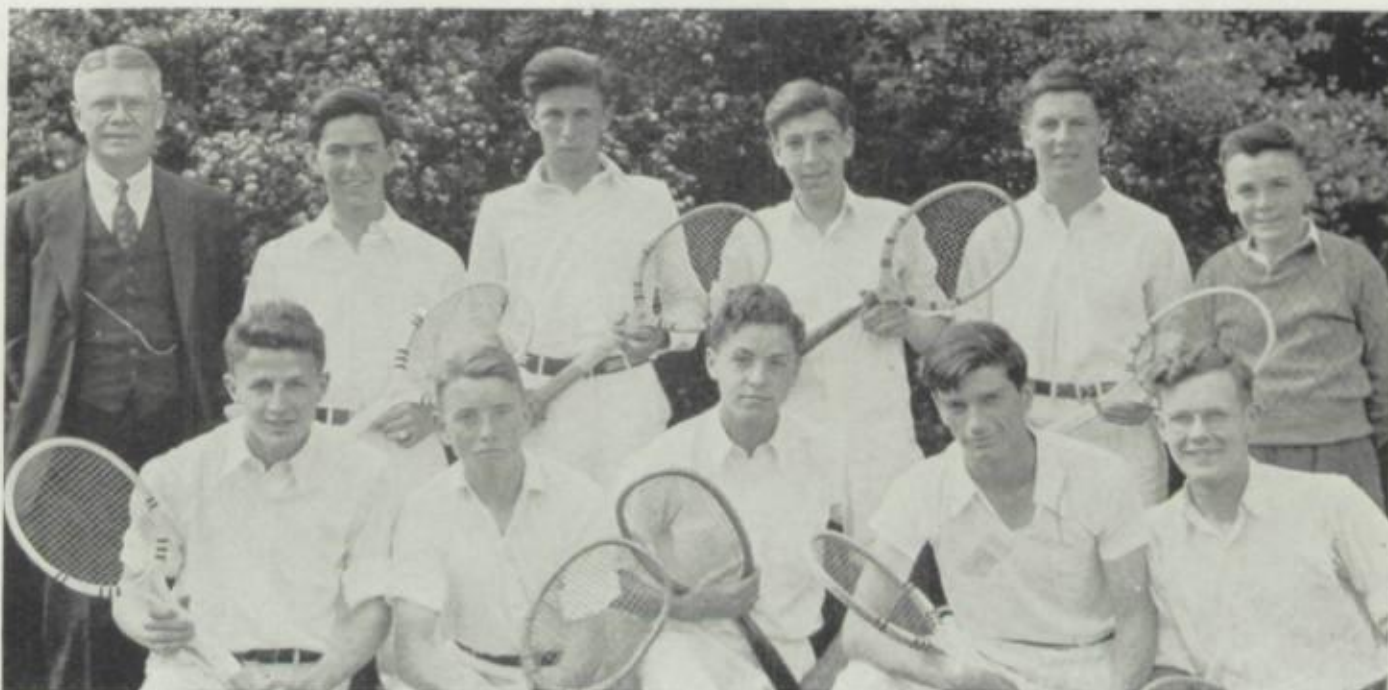

THE Minuteman "35" track team under the leadership of Captain Donald McCarthy closed a rather hectic season with a third place in the city conference track meet. Dean Carlstrom broke the city record for the javelin throw with a toss of 154 ft. 7 in., and Eugene Kogel took a first in the hurdles.

Prospects for the 1936 squad are exceptionally good with Captain Ferris Booth running the half mile way under his best of last year and John Francis expected to pace the city in the quarter mile. George Clemens, veteran hurdler; Ransom Goins, high jumper; Robert Bernstein, dash man; William Rose, another half-miler; and Edward Hoffman, Carlstrom's successor in the javelin throw, will compose the remainder of the squad along with many ambitious and hard working rookies.

The Track Team Goes to Work.

EXPERTS IN THEIR FIELD

First row: Harold Ravits, Robert Cutting, Douglas Ames, Myron Lieberman, Fulton Hanson.

Second row: Coach John Harp, Lewis Burton, Jack Marsh, Mason Rudawsky, Robert Giblin, and Henry Norum.

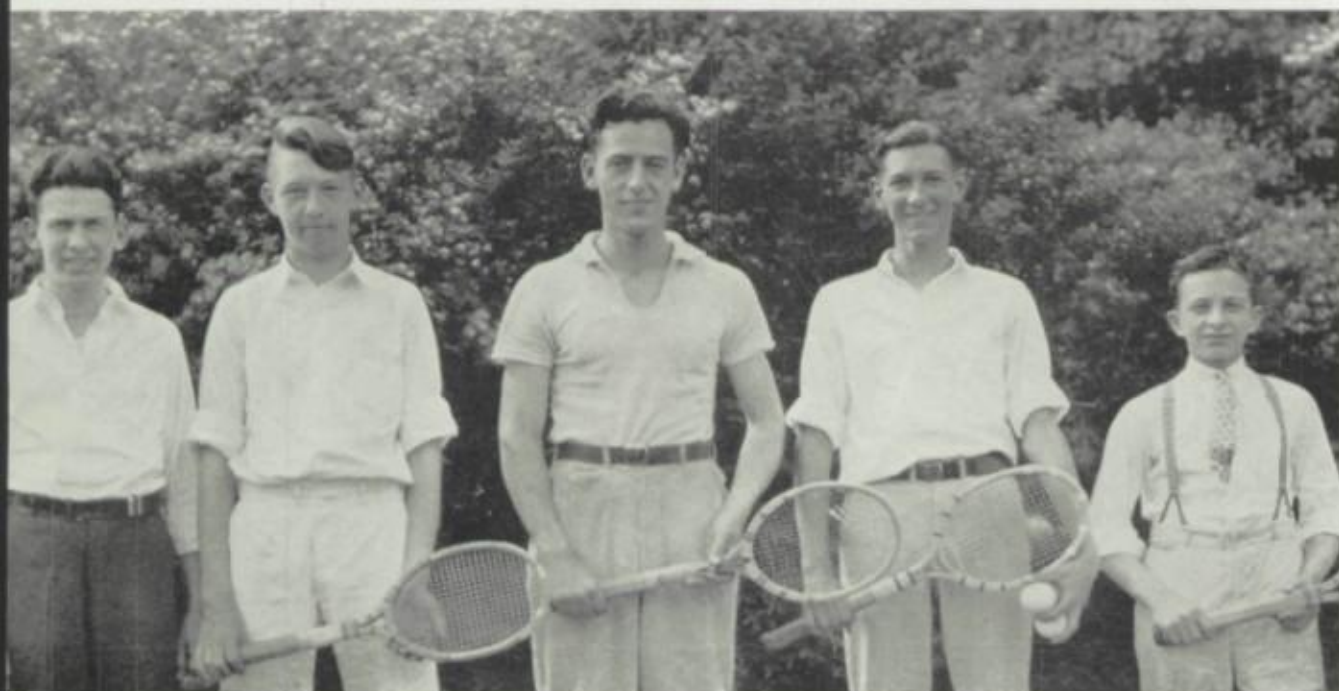

RACKETEERS

THE 1935 tennis team, under the leadership of co-captains, Fulton Hanson and Myron Lieberman, continued an unbroken string of city championships and added to it the unofficial state team and the state individual titles, the latter being won by Myron Lieberman.

The team made up of Lieberman, Hanson, Robert Giblin, John Marsh, Harold Ravits, Robert Cutting, Lewis Burton, Mason Rudowsky, and Douglas Ames went through the city conference with the loss of but one point out of a possible twenty. Outside matches included wins over Concordia, Minneapolis Roosevelt, and University High.

Central's intra-mural tennis program during the 1934-35 season found eight teams competing for the title. One of the eight teams entered in the league, the "Racketeers," went through to the championship winning each of the seven games on their schedule.

Robert Van Keuren, Harold Baldwin, Joseph Scherman, Paul Schultz, Melvin Yblonsky.

Robert Oltman, Robert Cless, Harold Johnson, Cyrus Montgomery, George Holm, Dean Larsen, Jack Ritzinger, Coach R. D. Berg and Robert Snell.

PAR CHASERS

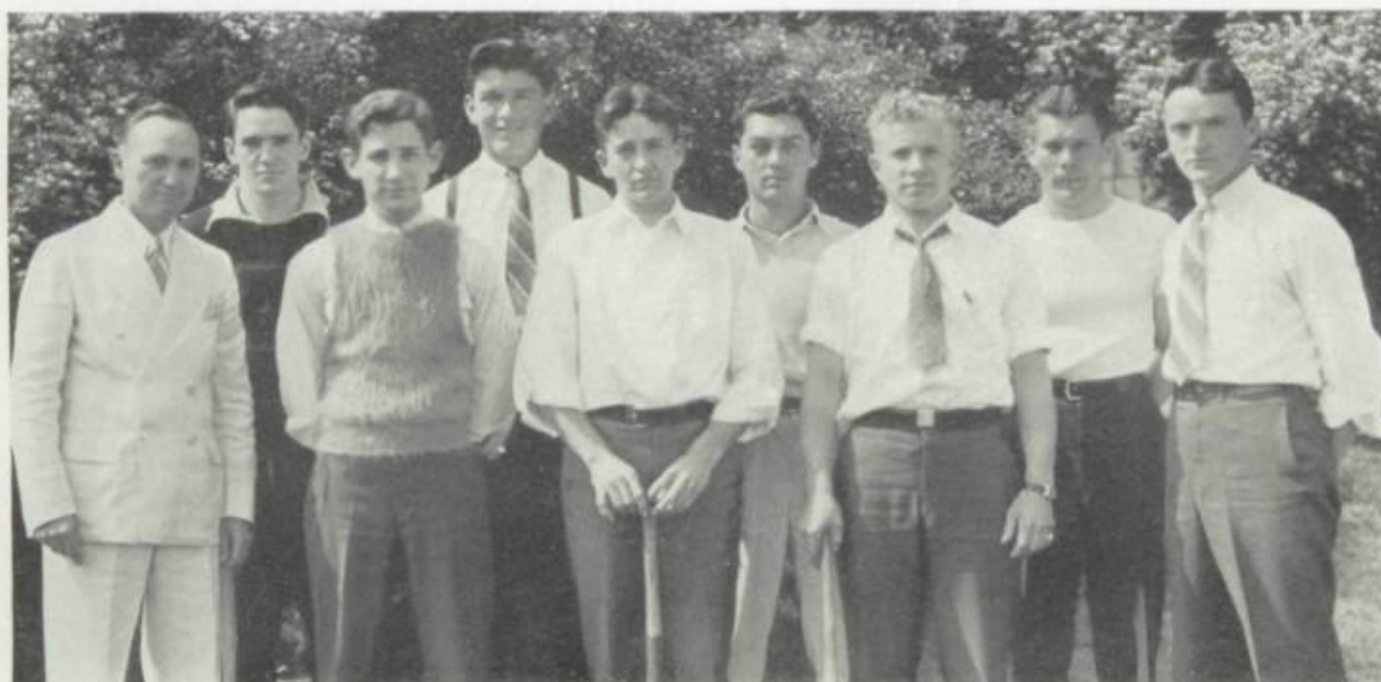

WITH Keller Course serving as the battle ground, the Minutemen golfers of 1935 battled their way to third place in the City league.

Dean Larsen played number one man for Central with Robert Snell, Robert Oltman, Robert Cless, and Harold Johnson comprising the remainder of the squad.

The team was under the able tutelage of R. D. Berg, who served as coach, and Dean Larsen, captain and manager.

INTRAMURAL KITTENBALL

With just one intramural Kittenball league functioning this year, the Red-birds captured top honors with five victories and no defeats. The league was under the able direction of Mr. Harry Smith, faculty adviser.

Faculty Adviser Harry Smith, Jack Campbell, Charles Ritt, George Boerner, Stuart Cameron, George Vollhaber, Thomas Haywood, Homer Martin, and Harold O'Rourke.

First row: Robert Berg, Albert Buser, James E. Marshall, Jack McCallum, Albert Meier.

Second row: Harry Smith, Frank Galles, John Harp, Glenn Varner, Albert Schwabe.

ATHLETIC BOARD

THE Athletic Board of Central consists of members of the faculty. The duty of the Board is to supervise the use of the athletic fund and look after all intramural sports.

Officers of the organization are: Robert D. Berg, president; Alfred Buser, vice-president; Albert Meier, secretary; and George Christiansen, treasurer.

GIRLS' "C" CLUB

THE history of the Girls "C" Club dates back to 1909. Girls of that class who had been active in sports at Central continued to meet once a year at an informal luncheon. Each year a few girls of later classes were invited to attend, but no letters were awarded until 1927, when a formal organization banquet was held at Central at which 13 girls were awarded C's. That was only the beginning! By 1931 the club had grown to such proportions that the banquet was held at a hotel, and this year is the "tops" with 46 awards. The officers of the club are Helen Micol, president; Sylvia Smolik, vice-president; Ruth Marino, secretary; and Ruth Alice Smith, treasurer.

Twenty-three girls are also receiving their leather all-city award this year. It is necessary to earn 1250 points to receive this award which is the highest honor to be given in girls' athletics at Central.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

THE G. A. A. of Central High School was founded in 1921 for the purpose of interesting girls in an athletic program of seasonal sports, terminating in the award of the school letter. The program of the club has been expanded to meet the needs of the group until, at present, it offers during school hours a competitive intramural program and outside of school a point system leading to the award of a letter in any of eighteen minor or individual sports.

The ideals and general principles of the G. A. A. are well expressed in the following extract taken from its platform: "We believe in the spirit of play for its own sake, and work for the promotion of physical activity for the largest possible proportion of persons in any given group . . . under leadership and environmental conditions that foster health, physical efficiency, and the development of good citizenship."

CLASS WILL—

WILL IT BE DONE?

WE, THE Senior Class, suffering from that hallucination of all senior classes, namely, that there will be little left of value after we leave Central (or at least little that can be carried away), and being here present in body if not in mind do hereby make this last will and testament giving and presenting unto you juniors and sophs anything worthy of being left behind and anything not worthy of being taken along.

Under this last qualification Liz Hohn, Jack Mitchell, Howie Robinson, and Fre Jewell cheerfully leave their younger sisters, and June Pritchard is left for all of Marge Hedin's admirers.

Bob Effinger is scheduled to leave his ability to sleep all second period, with an air of cosmopolitan boredom that is the envy of the most blase fratman, to Earle Dunn. Chuck Janssen will leave a generous portion of his grey matter. He claims he'll have no use for it anyway.

Ted Blegen and Werner Westphal bequeath their size to any hopeful football aspirants. Shirley Axt leaves some graduation pictures to those who had trouble with theirs. To next year's incoming sophs Seth Epperson gives his brief case. Marty Gilfillan leaves a bored look for anyone who gets overly excited over an M. R. Bill McGinnis presents his "irons" (curling) to Chuck Morschek.

And then, perhaps the greatest sacrifice, Sherman (Ex) Gordon leaves his "X." Jim Vervais leaves a little bit of his good sense with Sally Browne.

Mac Tewmey leaves his nifty black riding boots, while Otto Silha has an almost new Easter sweater to dispense with. He hasn't worn it since the Monday after because of the razzberry it brought down about his ears. Olive Foerster's gray, woolly anklets are left to anyone with cold feet in chemistry. Gene Maher gives his red and black plaid shirt to Bud Elmquist, while Bob Freer leaves his hard collar, and Burke Neff leaves his "sky blue" suspenders.

Jeanne Lodge and Don Nunn leave their bright lines to anyone having heart trouble. Jane Sorenson and Lorraine Beltman leave their afternoon malted milks and cake to Marion Brown, who can absorb the increase without difficulty, thank you.

—OR OVERDONE?

Pat Doyle leaves her voice. May Morgan leaves half a bottle of cough medicine, Jack Mitchell having consumed the rest trying to cough up with something original for this section. Jean Anne Vincent bequeaths her post as official adjourner for senior class meetings to anyone fast enough on the up-take.

We leave next year's CEHISEAN staff any experience we may have gained editing this annual, but suggest that if you think you can write, keep that dream intact and don't try.

Miss Hosmer's fifth period trig class leaves still dazed over those problems on Page 208. This leaves you sputtering and we leave for St. Peter.

Thy will is done—but not rare.

Unsigned by order of Health Department.

APOLOGY

I O THOSE front hallites who knew you were going to be in that attractive part of this section known as the Crush Page, and to those of you elsewhere who just thought you were, we owe an apology for dispensing with it this year. However, due to unsettled conditions generally (J. S., Commencement Dance, etc.) and to the prohibitive price of same page, incurred by libel suits and such, we were compelled to skip it. At this point somebody says that it was only because we were in a quandary as to whom to put at the other end of Liz Hohn's line, but staff members will tell you the page just wasn't democratic enough.

While we're at it, we apologize for any lowering of grades that may result from our labeling Mary Ann Holdorf and Don Levin as Apple Polishers.

To people like Seth Epperson and Laddie Dyer we apologize for the "Epitaphs" under their names in the album section. This last a bit grudgingly since we feel we have grounds for some of the same. We were going to beg off for the first 160 pages in this annual, but the irate associate editor said it's good enough for anybody. Well, that's all—we'll see you at the first class reunion—at which time you may bring up any other grievances that annual has given you to talk about.

IDEAS like airships, come towards us out of the haze. Modern airports have every facility for the convenience of airmen and their crafts. Similarly, we have every modern equipment and years of engraving experience to bring into concrete form the ideas of our hundreds of clients who publish school and college annuals.

Developing a theme for such issues which will thrill whenever seen, and bring back happy memories in years to come, calls for understanding, and a wide range of experience. You will find that sort of understanding and experience, as well as unsurpassed workmanship when you commit your publication to the

A Message for You

Believe that you can—and you will not fail,
Though great be the task begun.
Believe that you can—though hard the trail
And rugged the road you run.

Have faith in yourself, just know you can,
And you're simply bound to do;
And never a barrier, bar or ban
Can keep you from carrying through.

So go to it boy, and hit your stride
At the crack of the starting gun,
And never falter or turn aside
'Til the whole long course is run.

You may not be brilliant or clever or smart,
You may not be fast of pace,
But if you have grit and a confident heart,
You'll be there at the end of the race.

The Reason Why

That MOLLOY MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value.

The Cehisean, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY MADE covers "away back when"—and the Molloy trademark on the cover of this 1936 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the country.

Perfect Performance

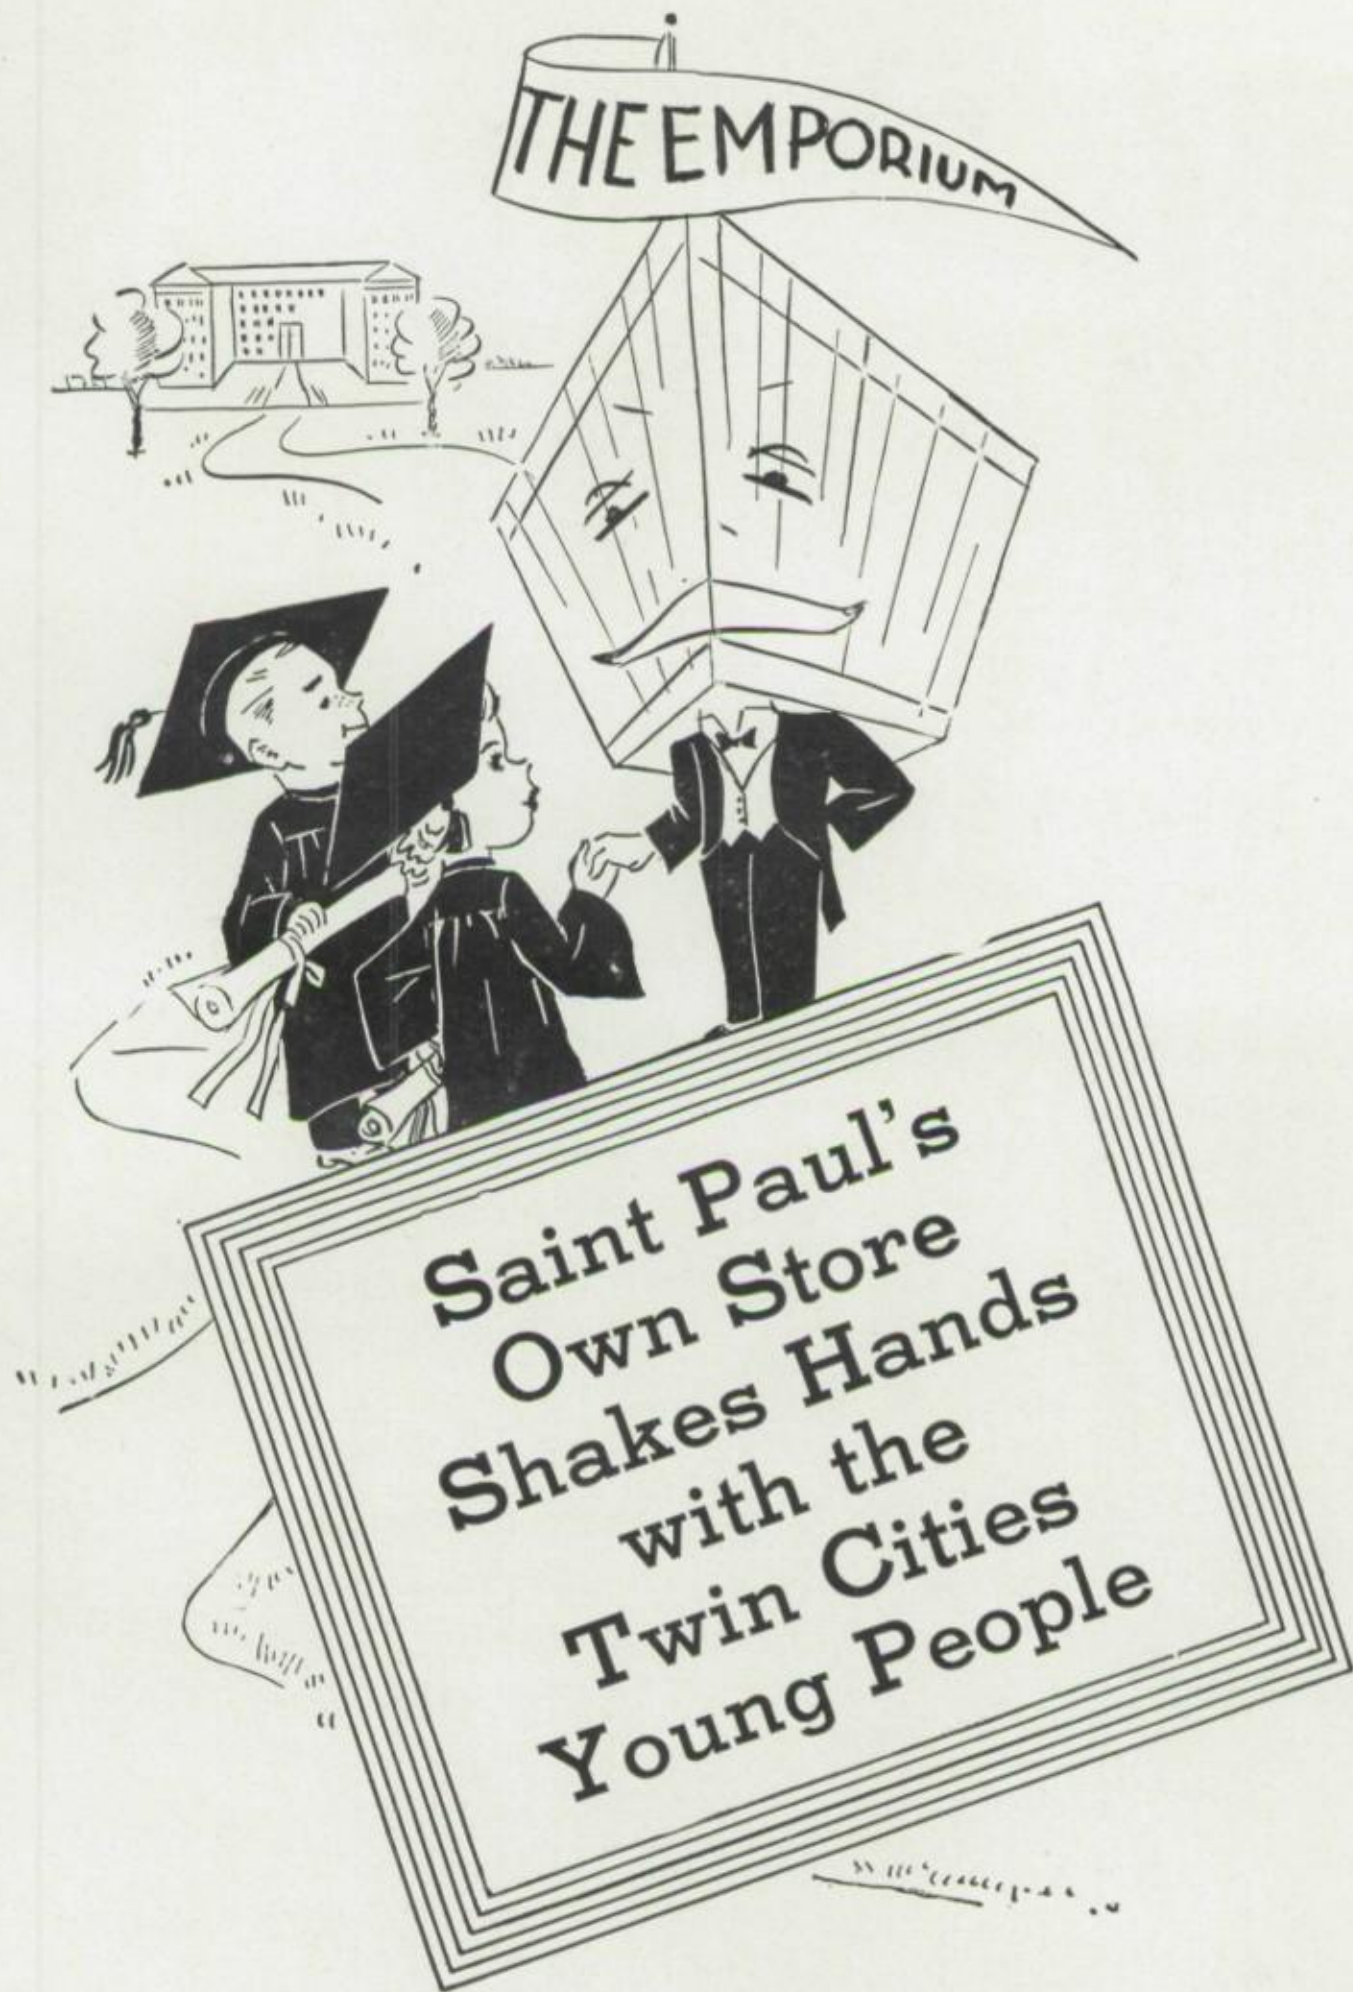

Whether in the execution of a Musical Composition or the production of a College Annual results from long practice, a masterly technique, artistic interpretation, and a minute attention to details.

Long and specialized experience in the production of School and College Annuals enables us to weave themes and movements into a composition of perfect harmony—a satisfying delight to the eye—and the pocket book.
